

Earthquake disaster in Nepal: rapid response from Trinity

Pupils and staff responded very quickly to the news of the earthquake in Nepal and its devastating consequences. The School held an event to raise awareness and funds for the people of Nepal left in extremely vulnerable and impoverished situations.

The whole school community got together to support fundraising activities in the school's Chapel. These included a large chalk map of the world drawn on the floor for pupils, staff and parents to cover with coins, silver for Nepal and copper for the rest of the world. The walls were decorated with bright bunting flags similar to those that decorate Base Camp on Mount Everest; an impressive display that had been created specially for the purpose by pupils and staff of our Prep department, with each flag carrying a message of support for the people of Nepal.

This evocative scene was backed up with large screen video clips highlighting the work of Shelterbox, an international relief organisation based in Cornwall, and Trinity's nominated charity for the event. Also on display was an actual Shelterbox, complete with full disaster-pack contents, enabling us all to see exactly what the money raised could be used to buy. A massive sale of cakes, donated by pupils, parents and staff complemented the fundraising activities.

The event raised an amazing £545 with one donor undertaking to raise this amount to £590 which is the exact amount needed to sponsor a Shelterbox.

Our Chaplain, Revd Jonathon, said "When there are tragedies such as the Nepal earthquake, the immediate question for us as a school community is 'What can we do to help?' We decided that as well as offering our prayers we could also respond with practical help. Shelterbox struck us as an organisation that could offer such help to the people of Nepal left homeless and in a desperate situation. I was delighted to see the school community responding with great compassion and generosity. We all look forward to sponsoring a Shelterbox, which we send to Nepal with our love and prayers, and which is especially important in the light of the second earthquake which has since tragically hit the same areas."

Awards for Young Enterprise team as they impress at final (and on BBC Radio!)

A group of enterprising 6th Formers won two awards in the Devon final of this year's Young Enterprise contest, held recently at the Met Office.

Their business, Candle Lab, which produces candles, candleholders, lamps and other products from recycled materials, came away with the prize for the 'Most Innovative Product', specifically for the lamps designed by Harry Knapman. They also won 'Best Business Report' for the quality of the written presentation.

Prior to the final, Candle Lab had traded at a Young Enterprise fair in Taunton, and in the Guildhall Shopping Centre in Exeter, taking advantage of the opportunities to present their product to the public. Young Enterprise is very competitive, however, and in the 'Apprentice-style' final Candle Lab were up against several other enthusiastic teams of students from numerous colleges and schools from the region. Students had to make a professional presentation about their business, showcase their products on a trade stand, and answer questions from a demanding panel of real business leaders and professionals.

The team of Hannah Powe, Arbi Shakhgriev, Tong Tienjesdachai, Dzhambulat Yakubov, Harry Knapman, Joe Hurdman, and Matthew Boyce were delighted with their awards, although a little disappointed not to have won overall, losing out on the evening to a team from Exeter School. Head of Business and Economics, Mr Mike Milne, is particularly proud of the students' achievement. 'The Candle Lab team have had an interesting journey,' he said, 'continually developing their products from an initially simple concept. They have learned a great deal and gained a sense of achievement from their trading successes and progress in the contest,' he added.

Candle Lab were certainly impressive when interviewed by BBC Radio Devon presenter, Michael Chequer. Hannah and Harry confidently answered questions about their business and the Young Enterprise scheme. Also interviewed were Jake Bayliss, a representative of Trinity's team from last year, the highly successful 'Offshore' business, and our Business Mentor, Mr Malcom Protheroe.

The feature was aired and you can still listen to it at about 40m 45s on <http://www.bbc.co.uk/programmes/p02q2jlm>

As Mr Milne says, 'I think you will agree that Harry, Hannah and Jake all sounded really good! In fact the whole team have been fantastic ambassadors for the school throughout the whole process.'

Transform Party win as Election Fever hits

There was an air of excitement on May 7th as party leaders and their teams were trying for one last time to persuade voters to support them in the big poll. The 'big poll' was, of course, the Trinity Election, a project co-ordinated by Mrs Giulietta Swift, Assistant Head of Key Stage 3.

Key Stage 3 pupils had been meeting regularly in groups to work on an exciting Election 2015 project. The aim was to help the next generation of voters understand and engage with our democratic system. Each group formed a political party and learned about our election system and how our democracy works, what makes a good leader, and what a manifesto is.

RESULTS: 307 pupils from Years 3 to 13 were eligible to vote, 213 pupils voted (69% turnout). At the end of voting the ballot box was full, giving Emma Gittoes (Year 9) a challenging job as chief counter.

WINNERS: 'Transform', led by Annie Bates, 85 votes (41%)
2nd place: 'Vision', led by Beth Riley, with 71 votes (34%)
3rd place: 'Progress', led by Nick Kumick, 53 votes (25%)

Congratulations to those in 'Transform' and thank you to all Key Stage 3 pupils who worked hard on the project; and finally thank you to those who voted across the year groups.

MP speaks to Prep and Senior pupils

After a visit from local MP Anne Marie Morris, who answered questions from Prep and Senior pupils, each of the 3 Trinity election parties chose three policies that mattered to them, set them out in a mini manifesto and presented them in speeches to pupils in Prep and Senior assemblies.

On May 7th as the nation went to the polls so too did pupils from years 3 to 13, as our Trinity electorate voted according to the policies they supported. The school was abuzz with pupils of all ages discussing Trinity politics as well as the General Election.

GENERAL ELECTION

WHO WILL YOU VOTE FOR ON MAY 7TH?

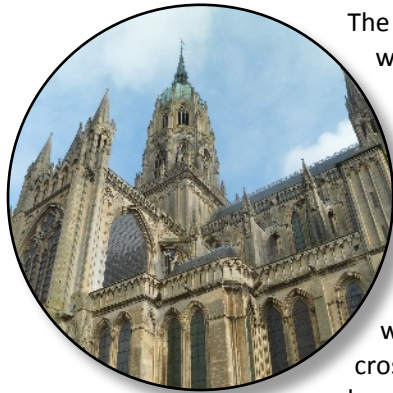

VISION	1. More staffing on A&E departments in hospitals especially at busy times such as Friday and Saturday nights. 2. Lower University tuition fees. 3. More facilities for younger people such as youth clubs, creative activities as well as sports.
PROGRESS	1. No new roads through endangered animal habitats and dogs on leads in these areas. 2. An NHS for all with better budget management and reduced waiting times. 3. Boost the economy with more investment and lower taxes.
TRANSFORM	1. Reduce University Tuition Fees. 2. All criminals who are given life sentences will not leave prison. Life means life. 3. Provide free public transport for school age children.

A memorable trip to Normandy

The four days we spent in Normandy were action-packed. We left early in the morning to catch the ferry to France. Once we got there we took the coach to the hotel, ate and went to sleep. The next morning we had breakfast and went to the D-Day cemetery. It was breath-taking. As soon as you walked in and saw the rows of crosses it put into perspective just how many died on the beaches. As we walked around I noticed just how well kept the grounds were. There were people constantly keeping the grounds perfect. I also noticed that between all the crosses there were a few Stars of David which really showed respect for the religion of the people who gave their lives were. The whole experience was very emotional.

Next we went to the D Day Landing beaches. The first thing I noticed was the giant craters. It may have been cold but it was enjoyable to go into the old buildings where people would have fired at the incoming attack from the beach. After we had had a good look around we continued to the memorial in Caen before returning to the accommodation.

It was not all war! The rest of the time was spent visiting Bayeux's Saturday market, the Cathedral, the Bayeux Tapestry and, of course, a supermarket. Alex Winch

Here are comments from some of the Year 8 students:

Farida: I found it really interesting. I enjoyed the trip to the cemetery although I spent much of my time there in tears.

Annie: It was really fun. The architecture of the cathedral was amazing. One of my favourite things was the hotel and being able to spend time with your friends in the games room and on the beach. The cemetery was really moving.

Rowan: All of the shops were very different to English shops. The American cemetery was very sad seeing all those graves and realising how many people had died.

Beth: I loved the patisserie shops. The D Day beaches were also very interesting, seeing the dugouts and bombholes from such a long time ago. The sun shining on the cathedral made it look stunning; and Anon: The American cemetery was very emotional. There were many soldiers that had died fighting for a country that they did not really know!"

Chamber Choir Champions

There were many smiling faces (in spite of the 7.45am departure!) as the Prep Chamber Choir set off for Lupton House, near Brixham, to take part in the Torbay and South West of England Arts Festival.

9.30 in the morning is never a particularly good time to sing, but as the choir launched into our first song 'For the Beauty of the Earth', by John Rutter, I had no fears for the time, as the sound soared in the wonderful acoustic of the Ball Room where we were performing.

The adjudicator later said that our opening was beautiful – a good reflection of the song title and exactly as I had asked the choir to do! Comments were made too about 'a well-blended and lovely sweet vocal tone, the strong 2-part singing and good attention to rhythmic detail'.

Our second song was a complete contrast – 'We Done a Project on It', a collaboration between Peter Skellern and Richard Stilgoe, which they penned as part of a school musical in 1992. This is a much more light-hearted and comical piece and the choir again rose to the occasion. The adjudicator commented this was 'an energetic performance with good use of characterisation and well observed dynamics with well-shaped phrases'.

In her concluding remarks to our choir, the adjudicator said, "You obviously enjoy singing! This is shown very clearly in your performance. Well done!" Mr Nigel Birt

Super (storm free) trip to Slapton

Years 3 and 4 enjoyed a remarkably storm free time in Slapton (reference previous Trinity visit to this destination earlier in the year!). Here are a few pictures of a wonderful time on on a fascinating South Devon beach....

Year 11 arrive at Summer Ball in style

The Year 11 Summer ball took place at our regular venue, The Langstone Cliff Hotel at Dawlish Warren, well ahead of this year's busy GCSE exam schedule. The students did themselves proud by turning up in some style, immaculately dressed, and in an impressive variety of vehicles, with the stretched hummer retaining its position as the vehicle of choice. The evening itself went incredibly well, behaviour was impeccable, and the students were a credit to the school at all times.

(More pictures of the Ball are on page 15)

Nursery raise funds for Claire's Guide Dogs Marathon run

Pre Prep spent a morning as part of Claire Twitchin's fund-raising for the London Marathon for the Guide Dogs for the Blind, exploring what it would be like to be partially sighted or blind.

The children took part in blindfolded activities to enable them to understand the difficulties faced, working in pairs, with one blindfolded and the other as their guide to complete everyday tasks.

Trinity Nursery raised £221.75 through a cake sale to help Claire raise a total of £2720.50 and counting! We would all like to congratulate Claire on such a fantastic achievement in completing the Marathon for a 2nd time and raising such a great amount of money for this charity.

Will Collinson selected for national Children's Commissioner role

Will Collinson of Year 10 travelled to London recently to attend the office of the 'Children's Commissioner'. He had applied to be part of the young persons group 'Amplify', a team of young people who advise the Children's Commissioner and her team. To quote from their website "they are at the heart of the Children's Commissioner's work and make sure the voice of children and young people is listened to and taken seriously."

The Children's Commissioner's post was created by the Children Act 2004, and heads an organisation that works on behalf of children and young people to promote and protect their rights in England. They consider children and young people's views when they design services and Laws.

We are delighted to report that Will has been selected to be part of Amplify's team, which comprises 30 young people from all over the country. His particular interest is Article 23, 'Children with Disability and their rights to live a full and decent life in conditions to promote dignity, independence and an active role in the community. Governments must do all they can to provide free care and assistance to children with disability.'

Congratulations to you on your appointment, Will. We are proud of you! Especially proud is Will's Cued Speech Transliterator, Mrs Bev Harman. 'I was lucky enough to go to London as Will's interpreter and see these amazing young people in action.'

Travis and Cullan complete Ten Tors

Do you really know what the Ten Tors Challenge is? Well, Year 10 students Cullan and Travis Smith do, as they recently completed the hike as part of the local team from the River Teign Sea Scouts.

Organised by the Army, this annual event involves 400 teams of 6 teenagers who must face a minimum 35 mile hike around Dartmoor, visiting a nominated 10 Tors over 2 days. It's a tough exercise, and those who take part will usually remember it with pride for the rest of their lives.

Andrew Dorey, Travis and Cullan's Scout Leader, said in an email 'I am really proud of all of them and look forward to next year and doing it all over again.' Well, we would echo those comments, especially as Trinity will have its own Ten Tors team next year, and we look forward to benefiting from the experience of our resident experts. Well done Travis and Cullan.

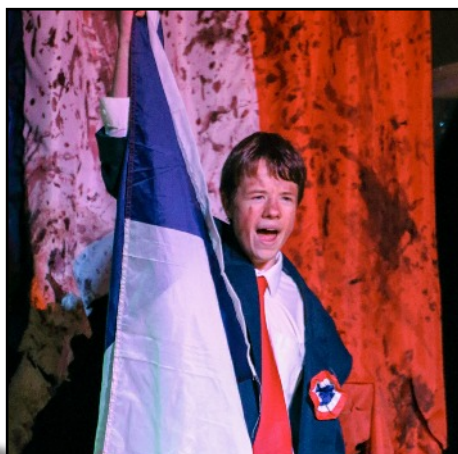

‘Stunning’ production of Les Misérables thrills audiences

Senior students staged a full production of the musical Les Misérables (School Edition). During a 3-day run, audiences were swept along by some outstanding singing and drama performances. Head of Drama, and the show's Director, Fenella Cooke, explained why the school chose to stage such a challenging musical. 'We wanted to showcase the exceptional talent among the students here at Trinity, and this demanding musical was one that we thought would allow our students to shine.'

Head of Music, Rachael Arkell, the show's Musical Director, said 'Right from the word 'go' our pupils displayed several of the key qualities for getting this production to an outstanding level of performance by the first night: dedication, enthusiasm, and sheer hard work! I am very proud of all that they achieved.'

Headmaster, Mr Tim Waters, praised the performers on their energy and whole-hearted commitment to the project, which was several months in the making. 'I have had a large number of highly positive comments from parents, many of them commenting on the seamless quality and consistency of the production and the professional performances of the students. I am particularly grateful for the efforts of Fenella Cooke and Rachael Arkell in taking on such a hugely ambitious project. A musical like Les Misérables is a challenge that many schools of our size would have happily avoided, but our students and staff have proved what can be achieved when raw talent is backed up by determination and teamwork,' added Mr Waters.

'Real Easter Egg' awards for kindness

At the end of last term, our chaplain Revd Jonathon and Mr Coen gave away 16 'Real Easter Eggs' in Prep and Senior assemblies. Revd Jonathon's idea was to award the Eggs to pupils, staff or parents who had shown a surprising act of kindness or generosity - something out of the ordinary which had transformed a situation. Like the Easter story.

Revd Jonathon says "The Easter story is a surprising good news story! It tells us about a God who does unexpected things. Life transforming things we'd never have imagined in our wildest dreams, like bringing Jesus back to life. We eat chocolate eggs at Easter because they symbolise new life and hope - the good news message of Easter for all of us today. The Real Easter Egg Giveaway was an attempt to help people to make connections with the Easter Story."

Revd Jonathon had the difficult task of deciding on the winners from among 40 worthy nominations. He says "I was really struck by the number of nominations and that pupils had nominated staff and vice versa and staff had nominated other staff as well as parents. It was a great way to end the Lent term before celebrating Easter."

The Real Easter Eggs were awarded to:

Prep Department: Ise Aworinde, Bodie Blake, Amelie Cheeseman, and from the staff, Mr Alan Webber.

Senior Department: Travis Smith, Lucy Almond, Sennin Papin, Kate Whittingslow, Ismail Soloman, Adam Furneux, Leah Gardner, Mr Malcolm Protheroe (parent) and staff Mrs Kathryn Crook, Mr Mark Acher, Ms Louisa Luly, Mr Rob Larkman.

Superb achievement for climbing team

Congratulations once more to our climbing team – Isabel Kumik, Sophie Riley, Nick Kumik and Gus Bascombe who put their holidays on hold to compete in the second round of the South West Schools Climbing Championships at the Quay Climbing Centre in Exeter. This was the bouldering round and once again our new team did incredibly well, achieving 2nd place on the day. This meant that they achieved 2nd place in the competition overall - a fantastic achievement as this is the first time Trinity have entered this competition.

Under 11 football team are ISA South West champions

The Independent Schools Association held their regional under 11 football tournament at Launceston in Cornwall. It was fantastic to see the Trinity team doing so well, returning home as regional champions, having managed 5 wins in 5 matches. This was a great set of results, and the boys are now really looking forward to testing themselves against other regional winners from the rest of the country.

Young tennis team progress in national cup

In the first round of the Girls U19 National Tournament, known as the Aberdare Cup, our team of Emily Syms, Tayla Hayes, Beth Cooper and Katherina Muhle beat Ivybridge College 4 – 2, so now progress to the second round.

What makes this victory so significant is that this competition is designed to accommodate 6th Form girls. The ages of our team? Two Year 7's, one year 8 and a Year 10. A fantastic victory for all of them. Good luck in the next round!

Impressive sporting year for Amity

Amity Carr is having an impressive sporting year. She recently played in the Devon 'B' squad in the U15 South West Inter-Counties Basketball Tournament, where she worked really hard and scored 8 points. This follows her achievements in skiing (she is Devon Ski Champion for her age group) and swimming, where she was part of the ISA South West team that competed in the national championships at the Olympic pool in London earlier this year.

More tennis success for Emily

During the Easter Holidays Emily won the 14 Years and Under Singles event at the Cardiff Open. She also reached the final of a similar event at Shrewsbury. These are superb achievements: she had just passed her 12th birthday, and played extremely well to hold her own against older girls.

Emily also competed in the national 12 Years and Under competitions in both Nottingham and Sutton, being the no. 12 seed at the Nottingham tournament. Recently she won her second County Tour event of the year at Exeter University. Despite playing once again in a higher age group, Emily won 3 matches for the loss of just 2 games, 'dominating the event with her attacking groundstrokes and powerful serve', says Mr Mark Syms, Emily's father and coach.

Fun at the ISA Pre Prep Sports Festival

A group of pupils from Prep 1 & 2 made up the Under 7 squad for our trip to the ISA Pre-Prep sports festival. The athletes had an early start, leaving school at 6.30 am for a 3 hour journey to Ballard School, Hampshire. Spirits were high during the journey although some of the team were struggling with the winding roads! When we arrived the children were raring to go and took part in a range of adapted games that tested their skills in rugby, hockey, cricket, netball, rounders and athletics. The main aim of the festival was for the children to have fun and learn, although there were medals available for the winners. One Trinity team and a team from the host school had been neck and neck all day with the hosts just edging it in the final activity. All in all, a really fun and successful day was had with our teams earning 2nd and 4th place. Remarkably the children maintained their high levels of energy on the trip home and the sports tea helped to steady the stomachs! Well done to all the children involved. SL

'Poverty Week' 6th Form Charity Project

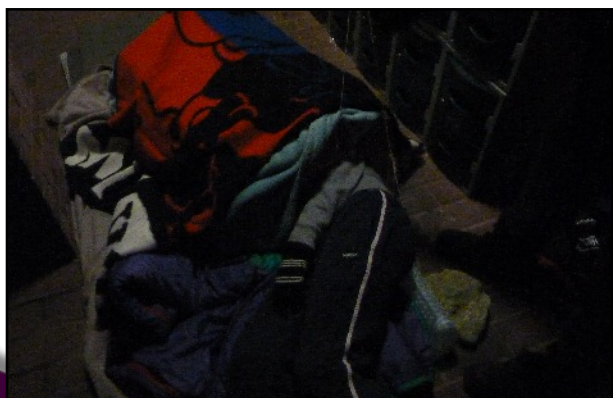

Over £600 was raised during this year's 6th Form charity challenge. For 2015 the 6th Form came up with a far less tiring experience for our community. Having crossed continents, climbed mountains and stumbled marathons in recent years, this year's challenge was more about will power than physical endurance.

There were 2 big 'Poverty Week' projects, both aimed at raising awareness of poverty and deprivation as much as raising funds. Students and staff were invited to join The World Poverty Meal Challenge, with a further test for 6th formers: the Homeless Awareness Challenge.

Those signing up for the Poverty Challenge were required to give up their usual high quality and substantial school lunches for 1 week, and have them replaced with a poverty meal option. Some went further, opting to swap all of their normal meals (breakfast, lunch and dinner, at home and at school) for poverty versions. The poverty lunches prepared by our catering team were themed on a different continent on each of the 5 days, and included couscous, dahl, and soup, reflecting the meals that young people might have in those parts of the world (possibly healthier than the choices that some of students would normally make!). Volunteers raised money for 'Crisis', a national homeless charity, by obtaining sponsorship from family and friends and donating money to reflect savings made as a result of their frugality.

The Homeless Awareness Challenge was for 6th Formers who volunteered to sleep rough for a night during Poverty Week. Head of 6th Form, Mark Acher, was very keen to make the experience realistic. 'Volunteers were given cardboard boxes, plastic sheets and other basic materials. Food choices during the evening were basic, limited to the simple food that would be handed out at a homeless shelter. We were also aware that events like this could easily 'glamourise' the challenge faced by homeless people. Our volunteers dispelled this myth quickly by speaking with different groups of students each morning, after their night in the open,' said Mr Acher. Students raised cash by sponsorship and bucket collections, in and out of school, with the money destined for Calabash/Huckleberry (charitable organisations which support deprived communities in South Africa) and which Trinity has supported extensively in recent years.

Boarding life moves outdoors for the summer

In terms of weekends and free time, the summer term is the best time of the year for Trinity boarders. Despite the exam season, our boarding community always looks forward to the longer evenings, warmer days and plenty of sunshine. In the evenings, our pool is open and students can play water polo or improve their fitness swimming or just relax in the pool having fun with friends. Touch rugby, rounders and basketball are also proving to be very popular after study. Activities are provided every weekend, ranging from surfing, cycling and clay-pigeon shooting to dry slope skiing or even a visit to the zoo.

Paignton Festival success

Our Paignton Festival winners: Inge Watkins, Bodie Blake, Blake Jeffery and Gracie Blake! Congratulations to them all and of course Preps 4 and 5 for their medal winning performances. All these and the South West Choir of the year will be performing at the Summer Concert on 25th June.

Medals for Trinity pupils in National Surf Life Saving

Our school is fortunate to enjoy very close links with the ever-expanding Teignmouth Surf Life Saving Club. Several of our pupils (including a large contingent from Prep department - pictured right) attended weeeekly pool training in order to prepare for the National Championships which took place recently at Millfield school.

Surf Life Saving is an all-round physical challenge, which suits young people and adults alike. It demands specific abilities in swimming, boarding, kayaking and running, as well as various rescue skills, and it also engenders a sense of community and 'doing something for others'.

Our Deputy Head, Mr Coen is very heavily involved in the Teignmouth club and reports that this was the first time that Teignmouth SLSC had entered the championships, where they found themselves up against around 25 other clubs with 600 competitors.

'The Trinity pupils ranged in age from the youngest, Amelie Coen in Year 3, to the oldest, who was Hannah Greenwood of Year 7,' said Mr Coen. 'All did fantastically well in what was quite a daunting arena. Individual national medals were won by Joel Davis (Bronze in the Manikin Tow) and Benjamin Coen who became National Champion in the Board Race, seeing off over 60 competitors. The two boys then worked together in the Board Rescue to secure Silver.

'Evie Lewis and Star Johnson pushed hard in the Manikin Tow and Board Rescue, finishing just outside the medals, although Evie was part of the relay team that picked up Silver. To cap off a good day, 3 of our pupils, Benjamin, Joel and Oliver Protheroe made up $\frac{3}{4}$ of the Medley Relay team which became overall National Champions – a superb effort.

I gather that it was a thoroughly enjoyable, but tiring day, and that they are all getting ready to start training in the Summer ready for the beach competition in August. The signs are looking good for more medals!!'

Our vibrant Parent Teacher Association

We are fortunate to have a vibrant and supportive Parents and Teachers Association at Trinity. It is an integral part of the School, run by an enthusiastic committee who organise events to raise funds for various projects. Parents and teachers in Nursery, Prep and Senior Departments are automatically part of the PTA, and all are extremely welcome at Committee meetings, which take place twice a term.

Chair of your Committee is Lynne Seager, who is assisted by Vice Chairs, Rachel Blake & Sally van Es. The Secretary is Gayle Githens-Mazer and Treasurer is Marcelle Hamilton.

Our recent fundraising projects have included £6,000 for a new Laser Cutter for the Senior Design and Technology Department; £1,000 for a Defibrillator, recently located outside the School Medical Centre; £250 for Senior basketball equipment and £150 for Prep School basketball equipment.

How can you help? The easiest way to support is to sign up to Easyfundraising.co.uk. Each time you spend money with one of the many companies registered (including Amazon, eBay, First Choice, Tesco), a donation is made by the company to the PTA. If you shop online for holidays, food, insurance etc, please register (free!) and help us raise funds. It costs nothing, but has raised over £500 in recent months.

Donations The PTA is registering for charitable status, which will have significant tax benefits for any company donations, and will enable individuals to request Gift Aid when making donations. If you can support us by making a donation, big or small, please don't hesitate to contact us.

Volunteering The PTA is really keen to hear from you if you can spare a little time to help or play a more active role, either through attending committee meetings, or providing assistance for any events. Currently, we are particularly keen to hear from Senior School parents.

Recent Events In the past year the PTA has organised events such as a Summer Ball, a Christmas party, Prep and Senior discos, a Prep movie night and a Swim BBQ, raising a fantastic amount of money, which has benefited all children across the whole school.

'vital role in support of the school'

Current Project The current fundraising is to buy play equipment for Prep, at an expected cost is approximately £12,000. £6000 has already been raised, and the committee are aiming to raise the remainder before the summer, so that installation can take place in the summer holiday. If any families or businesses would be willing to contribute towards the play equipment, the PTA would love to hear from you. As we will be a registered charity, there may be potential tax benefits.
